Harvard System

Welcome to our Guide to the Harvard System of Referencing (6th edition).

This guide is compiled by the University Library, to support students, researchers and academic staff at Anglia Ruskin University.

In the new 6th edition, there is an option to use DOIs when referencing journal articles, and amendments to the section covering quotations.

To help you there is a printable quick guide, or a full guide in .pdf format.

The full guide has two sections. In the first part we show you how to cite a reference in the text of your assignment, in the second part we have included instructions for each of the main source types such as books or web pages. Examples are given in red. Any similarity with published work are coincidental.

- Test yourself with our referencing tutorial
- Find some useful expressions for citing references in text
